Report on-
World Book and Copyright Day

Venue: BBK College, Nagaon, Barpeta

On April 23, 2024, the Department of Assamese of BBK College, in collaboration with the Department of Assamese of Govt. Women Model College, Chenga, observed World Book and Copyright Day with an engaging and enriching program that highlighted the significance of literature and copyright in today's world.

The event was a testament to the enduring power of literature and the importance of protecting intellectual property. The meeting was presided over by the esteemed Gyanada Deka Talukdar. In her opening address, she emphasized the transformative power of literature and the necessity of nurturing a culture that respects authors' rights.

The highlight of the event was a thought-provoking speech delivered by Bhabajit Bayan, who emphasized the significance of books in shaping minds and the critical role of copyright laws in safeguarding the rights of authors and creators. Bayan's address delved into the historical and contemporary importance of books, illustrating how they have shaped civilizations and individual lives alike. He also highlighted the challenges faced by authors in the digital age and the imperative of robust copyright laws to protect their creative efforts.

The program featured a rich tapestry of literary activities. Both students and teachers actively participated by reading out poems, extracts from novels, and other literary texts, showcasing a diverse range of Assamese literature. The readings not only celebrated the joy of reading but also underscored the cultural heritage and literary wealth of Assam. The event was a resounding success, reflecting the collaborative spirit of both colleges. It provided a platform for literary expression and highlighted the importance of protecting literary works, thereby inspiring participants to value and cherish the written word.
